WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT 2[illegible], 18[illegible]

U S INTERNAL REVENUE.—We are indebted to Mr H Coulson, deputy United States Assessor for the following interesting statement representing the total amount of U S taxes assessed in the State of Oregon under the Excise Law for the year ending September 1st, 186[illegible], including income licenses and duties on manufactured articles, &c

Division No 1—Clatsop, Columbia & Tillamook counties		$ [illegible]
2—Yamhill & Washington counties		[illegible]
3—Multnomah county		40 641 [illegible]
4—Clackamas & Marion counties		14 [illegible]
5—Polk & Benton counties		[illegible]
6—Lane & Linn counties		[illegible]
7—Douglas & Umpqua counties		[illegible]
8—Coos & Curry counties		[illegible]
9—Josephine & Jackson counties		[illegible]
10—Wasco, Umatilla & Baker counties		[illegible]
Total		$109 84[illegible]

The above also includes licenses assessed for eight months from September 1st 186[illegible], to May 1st, 1864. From the forgoing table we learn the pleasing fact, that from Multnomah county, alone, is derived nearly one half the entire amount of U S tax [illegible] throughout the State of Oregon. This fact will give persons abroad some idea of the importance of Portland as a place of business.

WHISTLING TO KEEP COURAGE UP.—Alexander H. Stephens Vice President of the Confederacy, is apparently a man in whose heart "hope springs eternal" under the most discouraging circumstances. He recently made a speech in Charlotte, N C in which he said that the capture of Vicksburg and Port Hudson was no ground for discouragement. Even if they should lose Richmond, Mobile and Charleston it would not affect the heart of the Confederacy. He never had the "blues" himself and did not entertain any respect for "croakers." It would seem, therefore that the rebels defend such places as Vicksburg merely for the "fun of the thing." They don't care for the places at all. They are of no account any way. And having lost four or five of the States with which the Confederacy set up house keeping, Mr Stephens feels quite assured that a continuance of such unexampled and brilliant success will secure their independence. We wonder if that is what he wanted to say when he started for Washington.

SECTIONAL JEALOUSIES.—The Confederate sympathizers at the North who are so anxious to see the North-West fall out with and separate from New England, may be interested to know that their Southern friends are not so excessively harmonious as might be expected. The Virginia rebels have a thorough hate of the cotton planters, as the following shows:

"The Richmond Enquirer has no fear that the capture of Vicksburg will injure the Southern Confederacy, provided the people on both sides of the Mississippi continue loyal to the Confederacy. It is somewhat alarmed however lest the cotton planters prove to be corruptible. 'The business of the cotton planter,' says the Enquirer, 'has a strong tendency to make him a sordid wretch. His sole thought is upon increasing his crops and increasing by their sales his stores of gold. Before the war he had but two ideas, and two aspirations, viz: to make as many thousands of bales and of dollars as possible, during eight months of the year and then to luxuriate in a Northern trip of immense extravagance and nabob pretensions during four months of hotel life.'

"To make money at home and spend it among the Yankees was the business of the cotton planter from the Alpha to the Omega. This is the class of people along the Mississippi whom the Yankees, with some reason think they have subjugated whom they have angled for with the golden hook, and by whose interested aid they expect to command its channel for the purposes of commerce."

REBEL CONSCRIPTION.—Col Richardson, the rebel guerilla, has issued an order requiring all men of West Tennessee between the ages of 1[illegible] and 45 to report to his camp, under the rebel conscription law. The following barbarous instructions are to govern his men in carrying out this order:—

"If a man should absent himself from home to avoid this order, burn his house and all his property except such as may be useful to this command. If a man resists by refusing to report, shoot him down and leave him lying. If a man takes refuge in his house and offers resistance, set his house on fire and guard it so he may not get out."

That's the way the rebels manage the draft.

PARSON BROWNLOW'S SON.—Parson Brownlow has two sons in the Union service. One of them gets a first rate notice from the rebel Mobile Advertiser:

The most daring and dashing of the cavalry leaders on the Yankee side in Middle Tennessee is Colonel Brownlow, of Knoxville. He is young, rather handsome, a great dandy and a lady's man, and like his father a gas pipe or blow hard of the most terrific description. His Lieutenant Colonel is Andy Johnson's son—two nice young men for a small tea party, truly! Though commanding a regiment, Brownlow is nearly always at the head of small scouting parties trying to ambuscade our boys, and leaving saucy messages in writing, for them at houses on the neutral ground. In one of the messages about a month ago he offered $5,000 if one hundred of the best men of Patterson's regiment would come out and fight him and one hundred men on open ground.

OVERLAND ESCORT.—We learn that Captain Crawford and his company of the overland escort arrived at Bannock City on Monday, the 7th inst., where he disbanded his company and sold his stock which was in very good condition.

The State Fair at Salem

SALEM, Sept 20th 186[illegible]

The State Fair is now over, and it is but natural to ask ourselves, what are its results? That its influence upon the prosperity of the industrial interests of the State will be great no reasonable one [illegible] doubt. It will be said by those who do not give the subject much attention that the exhibition, when considered as a State Fair was [illegible] that it would not [illegible] [illegible] with a [illegible] county fair [illegible]. [illegible] older than Oregon. We will [illegible] that the exhibition was not as large as it ought to have been, but that [illegible] mainly [illegible] that it was a State fair. It must be remembered that our State labors under many and great disadvantages [illegible] are ever numerous. [illegible] four [illegible] extent and nowhere thickly settled scarcely containing altogether a greater population than an ordinary sized county in New York, Massachusetts or Pennsylvania. The means of transportation are slow and expensive and it is on this account in most cases a long distance for the farmer to drive [illegible] or the [illegible] and manufacturer [illegible] chins [illegible] miles, merely for the purpose of exhibition. [illegible] some of the reasons why so many [illegible] the State Fair, while comparatively few contributed articles for exhibition. Was the same population [illegible] three counties the result would no doubt be very different. But as it is there is much to encourage the society in its efforts. It is financially a success. It has shown [illegible] that the State is rapidly though not so rapidly as it ought becoming independent of foreign manufactures. It is to be hoped that the society will furnish the public with some statistical information on the subject. There were many articles of home manufacture on exhibition for the first time in the State and the qualities of the older manufactures have been greatly improved.

It is no longer necessary for a farmer to use an imported plow, for he can get a better article for the same price of Mr F[illegible], of Marion county, who had some good ones on exhibition.

Larkin & Jackson of Eugene City had saddle trees as good as any. There were also some from the Penitentiary. All kinds of harness and top leather were also there. We noticed one buggy, Salem manufacture, but did not learn by whom.

J M Coulter, Salem, besides buckets and tubs made of [illegible] warranted not to shrink exhibited a churn that is well worth the examination of dairymen. It works on what has been called the centrifugal plan with a dasher of Mr Coulter's invention for which he has made application for a patent. It churned 8½ pounds of nice hard butter in nine minutes. The churn turns rather hard but has these advantages, that it breaks the cream very rapidly, works without a [illegible] thus letting the [illegible] the churn freely which facilitates the operation of churning and it gathers the butter quickly and solid.

Two improved washing machines were on exhibition, one was a simple application of the common tub and pounder worked with a lever and spring, price $14, by B C Dunway. The other works upon the common fulling mill plan—Horner's California patent for sale by G H Spencer, Forest Grove.

Both these machines appear to work well and easily and they do not injure the clothes but the patent wringer [illegible] to both these machines, and which may be applied to the common tubs as well, is most certainly a practical labor saving concern. It will wring anything from a lace collar to a blanket as dry as can be wrung by the hands, without injury to the fabric.

I A Wood had turpentine, axle grease "excelsior starch," japan oil and pitch all made at Portland.

The Salem Woolen Manufacturing Company had eighteen different fabrics enduring colors on exhibition. This company has bought of this year's clip 300,000 pounds of wool, paying an average of 25 cents, which is just double the price of wool when they commenced operations. They have recently been adding largely to their machinery and in a few days will have 1440 spindles running.

Philip Ritz, of Walla Walla and W. P Pugh, had each fine specimens of sweet potatoes. So it is proven that they may be raised in Oregon.

But, it is needless to particularize further so I will leave the State Fair.

THE EFFECTS OF THE REBEL INVASION.—The Philadelphia Ledger giving an account of the results of Lee's invasion in Maryland and Pennsylvania, says:

It is astonishing how rapidly the country that has been invaded by the rebels in this State is recovering from the desolating effects of [illegible]. The traveller is surprised to find how much less permanent injury has been inflicted than might have been anticipated. Horses have been stolen, and cows are scarce where the owners trusted to rebel forbearance, but [illegible] have suffered more than the country. Here the stores have been stripped of what could not be [illegible].

The effect of the rebel raid upon this section of the country has been [illegible] Perhaps one third of the people of Hagerstown are in heart [illegible] sympathy. But their sympathies are all displayed in making trouble and mischief, and none in doing good even to their own men. They keep trying to give information which is contraband [illegible] efforts even for the rebel sick [illegible] [illegible] The Christian Commission is doing an admirable work in this respect. The supplies would [illegible] distributed [illegible] letters are inserted in [illegible] clothing but the rebel sympathizers [illegible] and mischievous in [illegible] the people now hate [illegible] has been just strong enough to [illegible] thoroughly the Union feeling to the point of action and energy, so that the [illegible] sympathizers are watched with more [illegible] were indifferent or inclined to favor the South [illegible] strongest kind of [illegible] tire [illegible]

The result is that while the mountains, hills, valleys and streams remain unchanged the spirit of the people may [illegible] complete [illegible] with the North while the secession spirit [illegible] broken down [illegible] a good measure among the [illegible] that nothing but [illegible] led them to join the army [illegible] This [illegible] the case [illegible] the North Carolina privates.

JOHN MINOR BOTTS.—A correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal writing from Virginia says:

Did you ever hear tell of John Minor Botts? Well while the 11[illegible] Indiana Cavalry were engaged in a skirmish about six miles south of here, Major McClure seeing [illegible] old-ish gentleman [illegible] by the road side, hailed him and inquired "Which way did the rebel cavalry that a moment since passed here go?" "Sir," was the reply, "I am under parole to the Confederate Government to tell nothing I see. But, sir, my name is John Minor Botts, as devoted a Union man as the world can find. [illegible] I put no 'ifs' nor 'buts' in the case." May his release from parole soon come.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to September 17.

PORTLAND, M[illegible] Sept 16.—Returns from [illegible] Correy, Republican, over 16 000 majority. The State will stand 10 Republicans [illegible] Democrat. The House 110 Republicans [illegible] Democrats.

NEW YORK, Sept 1[illegible].—Money easy. Gold [illegible] 2[illegible]. Government stocks unchanged.

The Times has the following: "It is stated on good authority that Gen Gilmore has tendered his resignation to the President, caused by a row between him and Dahlgren. Report says he will not accept it. [illegible] give him up [illegible] to assume command of [illegible] affairs at Charleston.

QUEBEC, Sept 1[illegible].—It is reported that the steamer Caledonia is taking in coal to supply Confederate steamers.

NEW YORK, September 17.—The Lookville (Miss) Sentinel of the 11th inst says in consequence of the running away of slaves from that section farmers will not have help enough to gather the fall crop. Officers in the Army of the Potomac complain that horses received by the cavalry in exchange for worn out animals are worse than those returned to the Government. Also that horses [illegible] since the establishment of the new Bureau are not as good as those furnished before its organization.

WASHINGTON, Sept 17.—Nothing whatever has been received at the Navy Department in regard to the disagreement of Dahlgren and Gilmore as published. [illegible] If there has been a row between them there has certainly been no dereliction of duty on the part of the Admiral. No action has been taken to transfer him from command.

NEW YORK, Sept 17.—A Washington letter says the subject of feeding destitute people within our lines is engaging the attention of the President. There are [illegible] between the Potomac and the Rappahannock who be [illegible] destitute [illegible] entirely on [illegible] of our officers and soldiers. It is not improbable that they will be sent to their friends in Dixie.

A Morris Island letter to the Herald of the 11th inst says ever since our occupation of Wagner and Gregg the rebels have been exceeding mad and savage. They do not allow [illegible] peace but blaze away night and day on Wagner. But they left us such an admirably constructed work and so capacious a bomb proof that [illegible] has been injured. Since Thursday 12 deserters have come from James Island belonging to Louisiana regiments. They report a general desire to escape from service among the rebel troops. They say the rebels are building new batteries in the most approved style between Fort Johnson and the city on James Island, on which they are mounting 10 inch columbiads and 7 inch Brooks rifles. On the green in the city the rebels have mounted a 1[illegible] inch Blakely rifle which they have just received from Mobile. It was brought with another of the same calibre in an English rebel blockade runner two weeks ago. The second of these guns is in Charleston, but not mounted. It was at first proposed to mount it in Fort Johnson, but that was given up and so far as deserters know no place had been determined upon when it would be put in position.—The balls of these monsters lay by the side of the gun on Charleston green. The health of the army is good. The soldiers only need fresh vegetables. Gen Gilmore issued a general order giving 30 days furlough to privates who had distinguished themselves during the siege. They are not to exceed 2 per cent of the effective force on the island, and must be recommended by their Colonels.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sept 17th.—Richmond papers contain the following:

CHARLESTON, Sept 1[illegible].—A Lieutenant and 5 men were killed by the explosion of our magazines on James Island. A telegraph to connect Cummings' Point with Fort Pulaski is being built by the Yankees.

CAIRO, Sept 17.—Reports from the headquarters of the Arkansas expedition say that [illegible] is transpiring except such as would be contraband at present. Several reconnoissances which have been made reveal the fact that the approaches to the rebel works are difficult roads and flanked by dense cane brakes and cypress swamps, which will enable rebel sharp shooters to annoy an advance. They have also felled trees to aid in rendering an advance very slow.

To day's dispatches state that the white flag over Moultrie may have been a Confederate flag, faded. Gilmore says that 86 pieces of artillery were captured on Morris Island [illegible] others still remained.

WASHINGTON, Sept 1[illegible].—Our troops were eight miles beyond Culpepper on Monday.

Some writs of habeas corpus in military cases were discharged to day under proclamation suspending the writ in military and naval cases.

The Richmond Dispatch of yesterday says the Federals are perfecting arrangements for the permanent occupation of Morris Island [illegible] telegraph lines along the whole island converting Wagner into a powerful work, enlarging bomb proof &c &c.

Gen Johnson and Forrest had a skirmish with the Yankees on Friday. Forrest was wounded and the Yankees advanced to Tunnel Hill.

Gen Wheeler had a skirmish near Lafayette on the same day. The enemy being too strong, he fell back.

NEW YORK, Sept 17.—The steamer Eagle from Havana, with dates to the 12th has arrived. Rebellion in San Domingo still continued. Troops are being sent there.

[illegible] Liberties [illegible] fires [illegible] coming [illegible] at Havana. Arrivals there from Nassau report that [illegible] runners had arrived there from Charleston and Wilmington.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 17.—Peter Conlyan who was beaten by a hackman last week died this morning from the effects of his injuries. James Maguire, Geo Smith and Chas Barier were arrested for the murder. A personal encounter took place this morning between Geo Penn Johnson and James O'Sullivan formerly editor of a Sonora paper. No arrest has been made.

Bark Alma arrived Tuesday. She reports being spoken by the pirate Florida April 21 near the equator, 2[illegible] west longitude. She placed 6 passengers on board the Alma, taken from the ship Commonwealth when burned. They placed the passengers on board without payment of [illegible]. They saw the Florida burn two other vessels afterwards.

Tuesday night on the arrival of the Alice at San Francisco she was boarded by an armed gang of boarding house runners; her officers were intimidated by a display of pistols and the crew were shanghaied away by the gang. Those who objected were threatened with death. The U S Marshal has the matter in hand. [illegible] New York [illegible] grams to day quote pure spirits at [illegible]—Alcohol in barrels $1 [illegible]0 per gallon.

RECONSTRUCTION.—An article has recently been published in New York which is reported as foreshadowing the policy and purposes of the present Administration towards the seceding States. Its author is said to be a high Executive officer, who speaks by authority. One paragraph shows its general tenor and drift:

"No man will pretend that there is valid law for many of the extraordinary things that have been necessarily done [illegible] the work of maintaining the authority of the general government and defending the liberties and rights of the people against the assault of the armies of the oligarchy. [illegible] completely public opinion [illegible] necessity involving as they do sweeping changes in the administration of the government [illegible] dent in the position now held by the Hyde party in Missouri as in the results of the recent elections in Kentucky. We are a little inclined to dread the changes in our system of Government which the current rebellion is so rapidly bringing about."

The Washington correspondent of the S F Bulletin, commenting [illegible] say:

These views thus foreshadowing a radical change in our present theory and system of Government and put forward [illegible] believed to be in the confidence of the [illegible] have startled some of the timid [illegible] cause they are more plainly and frankly written than the same [illegible] by a score of the leading men of the country, judging from what we hear from General Butler and other [illegible] who have torn down the rebel flag and [illegible] the Stars and Stripes there is not left corporal's guard in favor of a restoration of the States as they were.

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT.—This day our Hebrew citizens celebrate their most solemn day of the year the Yom Kippur—the day of covering or protection—on which they are called to renounce their sins and take protection under the [illegible] only saving power of God. The Hebrew theology, like the Christian teaches that we all go astray that there is none righteous [illegible] that we can be saved by Grace alone after making our utmost [illegible] by a return to God to merit, in some measure His Grace. The outward sign of this our human poverty and depravity is expressed in the Hebrew church on the Day of Atonement, by a strict fast termed in the Bible by the term afflicting the soul," (Leviticus 23 28) which means by giving an outward sign (through the fast) of the duty of bringing the affections and desires under the dominion of religion. By afflicting, (Hebrew making or pretending poor the soul,) the Hebrew pronounces the poverty of the soul of the sinner and by a vital return to God (such as the day should effect) in prayer and humiliation, seeks protection of his God. The day besides fasting is celebrated in prayer during the whole of the day, and in countries where the rites are observed with greater strictness, the devotion continues uninterrupted literally from eve to eve, even during the night.

The day has a solemn symbolical character and the Hebrew that is at all imbued with his people whose associations lead him back to his ancestry during ages past will profane the day by continuing his daily occupation or by neglecting the outward sign of the day—the fast—by transgressing which he according to the text (Leviticus 23 29) should be cut off from his people. Several European governments will not admit as a witness a Hebrew who disregards the day, thinking that the man who has emancipated himself from such deep impressions and strong ties as that of the Day of Atonement, is not to be trusted, for no one could know how far such a man may have broken loose from other (moral and conventional) ties. Of course the latter apprehension is not applicable to cases where early education has not awakened the consciousness of the solemnity of the day to that people.

WARM.—The thermometer stood at 80, at 3 o'clock yesterday. Rather warm for this season of the year.

MORE GOLD DUST.—Wells Fargo & Co's messenger brought down about 150 pounds of gold dust on the Hunt last evening, while a large amount was in the hands of passengers.

FIRST PREMIUM.—As will be seen by an advertisement in this morning's paper the new style of Grover & Baker's sewing machines was awarded the first premium at the State Fair. Mr Pierson agent has a large stock of these machines on hand.

POSTPONED.—The sale of valuable homestead property which was advertised to have taken place to-day, has been postponed until to-morrow at 10 o'clock, when it will positively take place. Those who wish to purchase a valuable home stead will do well to attend at Mr Richardson's auction room.

FLOWERS.—Lovers of flowers should not fail to read Mr Miller's advertisement. October which will soon be here is the best time for planting bulbs.

THEATER.—A large audience was present at the theater last night to witness the "Lady of Lyons," which was splendidly performed. To-night the celebrated play of the "Hunchback" will be performed. Mrs. Hayne and Mr Waldron taking the leading characters. This is a great play and will no doubt be greeted by a full house.

THANKS.—We received a pitcher of fresh cider from Mr Cisco, of the "Willamette Nursery," yesterday; also, some apples from Mr W T B Nicholson.

THE NATIONAL POLISH PRAYER.—The following has been adopted by the Poles as their National prayer:

I.

O Lord, who for so many centuries didst surround Poland with the magnificence of power and glory, who didst cover her with the shield. Thy protection when our armies overcame the enemy, at Thy altar we raise our prayer, deign to restore us O Lord, our free country!

II.

O Lord, who has been touched by the woes of our [illegible] land, and has guided the martyrs of our sacred cause, who has granted to us among other nations the standard of courage, of unblemished honor, at Thy altar we raise our prayer, deign to restore us, O Lord, our free country!

III.

Thou, whose eternally just hand crushes the [illegible] pride of the powerful of the earth, in spite of the enemy vilely murdering and oppressing, breathe [illegible] into every Polish breast. At Thy altar we raise our prayer, deign to restore us, O Lord, our free country!

IV

May the cross which has been insulted in the [illegible] of thy ministers give us constant strength for our sufferings! May it insure us in the day of battle with faith that above us soars the spirit of the Redeemer! At Thy altar we raise our prayers [illegible] to restore us, O Lord, our free country.

V

In the name of His commandments, we all unite as brothers. Hasten O Lord the moment of resurrection! Bless with liberty those who now mourn in slavery. At Thy altar we raise our prayers deign to restore us O Lord our free country!

VI

Give back to our Poland her ancient splendor. Look upon our fields soaked with blood! When will peace and happiness blossom among us? God, let thy wrath cease to punish us. At Thy altar we raise our prayer, deign to restore us, O Lord, our free country.

QUARTZ LEADS.—We have been shown a number of specimens of gold bearing quartz, taken from claims in Powder river valley which promises to be very rich. Some claims in that section have been incorporated, and we doubt not that if they are well worked by men who understand their occupation, Oregon can one day boast as rich quartz leads as can be found west of the Rocky mountains.

Washington Guards, Attention.—There will be a drill of your Company this evening at your Drill Room, 2[illegible] Washington street, at 7½ o'clock.

☞ In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

Read what amount of Pain and Suffering can be saved by the use of DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA:
KENNEDY'S CORNER, Wayne Co., Ind., Oct. 3, 1863.
Messrs. A. L. SCOVILL & Co:—I write to let you know what BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA has done for me. Last January I was attacked with Inflammatory Rheumatism, attended with great pain. I became Bed-ridden, and was helpless as a child! The pain was so great when I moved that it seemed as if it would take my very life! In this way I suffered for seven long weeks or more, and thought that I could never recover. I was recommended to try BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA, and I did so. I took it internally, and had my body rubbed freely with it as long as I could bear, several times a day. My pains began to give way immediately on using the medicine, and I began to have strength and appetite, and am able to be about again. It has been a great blessing to me in relieving my sufferings. Parents may rest satisfied that every care will be paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at this Institution, whilst no pains will be spared to nourish in them those principles of virtue which alone can render education profitable.

No undue influence will be exercised over the religious opinions of the pupils; however, for the maintenance of good order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the house.

WHAT GOV CURTIN DID IN APRIL 1861 — The Philadelphia Press furnishes the following in reference to an important event in the history of the war

When the red hand of rebellion was raised against the Government the people of the country were appalled The nation, so to speak was apparently powerless for a time Our ships-of war had been sent to distant waters Our arsenals and forts in the North had either been robbed or reduced to their little garrisons The small army of two thousand five hundred United States regular had been sent South under the command of the meanest of traitors, General Twiggs by order of the band of conspirators who though solemnly sworn to support the Constitution were plotting to overthrow it The country then was filled with gloom President Lincoln had very recently been sworn into his high and responsible position surrounded, as he was then by a few armed soldiers and patriotic citizens who sprang to such arms as they could readily obtain Treason flaunted its red flag all over Washington at that period It was then that President Lincoln called around him the Governors of the loyal States to advise with them on the desperate nature of the emergency

They met in the White House 'Gentlemen,' said the President to that little party of patriotic men, 'the machinery of the nation is out of order We must run it as we find it The wheels its rods and its belts are separated, but the boiler seems to be perfect. We must repair the work with such skill and ingenuity as we possess There is wisdom in council, and therefore I have called you that we may reason together What shall we do to crush this foul rebellion and preserve the country from wreck? I have made up my mind with an implicit confidence in an overruling Providence to meet all emergencies that may arise It is time for work' continued the President 'What shall I do about issuing a proclamation to the people?'

The President, with his hands folded behind his back, paced up and down the apartment The six or seven Governors, who formed his auditors were wrapped in meditation Each expressed his opinion, but their sentences were punctuated with too many ifs and ands''

While this was going on, Gov Curtin, fresh from his Pennsylvania home, was standing at the window, looking through the panes, upon which he was drumming with his fingers while at the same time he was humming 'Hail Columbia'' He was an attentive listener to all that was going on He had not yet been approached by the President Presently there was profound silence

Lincoln finally broke the silent spell and turning to Curtin said 'Andy, what will Pennsylvania do when I issue my proclamation?''

Silence still more profound prevailed It was a momentous question It seemed as if the fate of the country depended upon the reply about to be made

Gov Curtin, still drumming on the panes with his fingers as aforesaid turned, faced the President, and with uplifted hands, said 'What will Pennsylvania do?' Here he paused

"Do"' another pause

'Why sir, (with emphasis,) if you issue your proclamation Pennsylvania will furnish you a hundred thousand men in a week''

'Give me your hand Andy,' said the President, and, as he convulsively grasped the same, he ejaculated 'Thank God for that reply I will proceed at once to issue my proclamation''

The gloom that shrouded that conclave of men on the instant passed away hope revived the drooping spirits the Governors sprang to their feet and with one accord congratulated Curtin

The Governor of Pennsylvania telegraphed the fact of the forthcoming proclamation to the capital of the State, from which it radiated to all parts It was announced on the newspaper bulletin boards in Philadelphia before the ink of the document was dry, and thus the yeomen population of the old Keystone State were roused to the highest pitch of enthusiasm

Two battery companies, of Reading and Pottsville, on the receipt of Governor Curtin's dispatch, 'called the roll'' at once, and the next train bore them to the defense of the Capital of the nation We well remember when those hardy men from the interior, some even in their shirt sleeves, passed through Philadelphia and took the cars at Broad and Prime streets They arrived in Washington so quickly that the bloody minded traitors who surrounded the patriot President, and had Washington within their grasp, were struck with astonishment upon the sudden appearance of the batteries They thought they had been deceived They were seized with the idea that Pennsylvania was at once ready for the emergency The foul conspirators were paralyzed from their own fears

The next day the famous Massachusetts Sixth, the Washington brigade of Philadelphia, passed through Baltimore, when a murderous outrage was committed, and the first loyal blood was spilled, then followed the New York Seventh, then came the Massachusetts Eighth The Capital of the nation was saved, much to the surprise of the conspirators, and to the gratification of the loyal people of the country

INCIDENT OF THE DRAFT.—A WEDDING SPOILED—THE BRIDEGROOM SENDS A SUBSTITUTE —The Chicago Post publishes the following incident of the draft

About nine years ago a young man named Thomas J Laughlin arrived in this city from Orange county, New York, and took lodgings in a private house on the north side, with a family whom he had formerly known at the east His history may be easily expressed in a few words—the stereotyped phrase of the hebdomadal humorists, "born of poor but respectable parents,' answering the purpose admirably He was by profession a book keeper with a very limited amount of funds on hand, but industrious and frugal withal, and had come to the city in search of employment It being a dull season of the year, however, and he unwilling to undertake anything but his legitimate business, he met with poor success here, and found no one who was willing to give him work to do

Among the visitors at the house where he was boarding was a fair cousin at the head of the family, who but a few weeks ago returned from a country town in Michigan, where she had been attending a boarding school The young book keeper came, and saw, and loved, and after basking in her sunny smiles and receiving encouraging glances from her bewitching eyes, he seemed to grow indifferent to the question of employment and cared but little whether he found anything to do or not He finally engaged himself to her and the preliminary arrangements were made and the day fixed for the marriage to be performed

Thus far everything passed evenly enough, but just here the 'connection broke and the knotty side of the affair began to intrude'' It would have been all very nice for the parties themselves if they could have got married without any trouble, after a few weeks of uninterrupted courtship but that would have give the lie to Shakspeare's assertion that the 'course of true love [illegible] When the young folks were about to arrive at the meridian of their happiness—when they had plighted their faith and uttered their vows and thought they were going to be made one in a little [illegible] time the young lady's [illegible] hearted parents unexpectedly commenced talking about young men of no standing, [illegible] of a good family having no means of earning a living, and so on The young man became indignant [illegible] had a right to [illegible] and talked furiously about [illegible] and said he would have his Margaret anyhow He insisted that he was of a good family that he [illegible] father moreover [illegible] and that his father owned a little farm in Orange county New York After this the old folks quieted down a little and the young man concluded that he would go home and get certificates of his respectability and establish in an honorable manner his worthiness to become the husband of Margaret

About twelve days ago young Laughlin departed for New York [illegible] with many tears and promises of a speedy return and receiving a hearty [illegible] of the hand and good wishes and kind words from his future parents in law He had not been absent but a day or two when the lady's father met an old acquaintance who had known Laughlin and his family for a number of years and who spoke in the highest terms of the young man and all his people Two or three days later letters began to arrive from Orange county bearing the same testimony The old folks began to relent and were sorry they had ever opposed the match They began to be impatient as well as the girl for the day of the wedding to arrive

But at this juncture, unfortunately, another difficulty arose The young man's parents objected They did not like the idea of their son coming to Illinois to seek his fortune and being there snapped up by a sucker in less than four weeks Finally the father told the son if he persisted in his designs he would disinherit him The young man paid no attention to the threat disinheritance should be no obstacle to the possession of Margaret At that time the draft was going on in the county, and on the day previous to the one on which the young man had decided to start for Illinois he was notified that he was drafted He appealed to his father for the almighty three hundred The father chuckled—he had the boy foul, and the heart broken lover had to shoulder a musket and enter the ranks

He had written to Margaret that he would return on Friday evening the 14th and that the nuptials would be celebrated that night Last night Margaret was arrayed in her bridal robes at seven—ten and eleven o'clock but no bridegroom came Friends had come together to witness the ceremony and eat wedding cake At first they were merry and jested with the bride about the tardiness of the bridegroom but a few hours later they became sad, and sorrow and sympathy was depicted on the face of every one A few minutes previous to twelve o'clock a stranger arrived who was from Orange county and brought tidings of the bridegroom He narrated briefly the circumstance of Laughlin's being drafted and assured poor Margaret that he should not be blamed, as it was a "circumstance over which he had no control,' etc. The reply of the young lady will never be forgotten by those who heard it With tear drops glistening in her eyes and her heart ready to burst with grief she turned to the company and said: 'I don't keer a durn there's plenty more men in the world any how'' The meeting adjourned

PARTICULAR NO

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have we publish the following receipt: Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDI

AND THE FRIENDS OF

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA, Au

Messrs Jones & Evans —Well gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer 'State of Maine,' from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MA

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.
